Leader predicts urbanisation of town as Valley Park approved

Didcot: the garden city?

• Leader of Didcot Town Council Bill Service

By Loughlan Campbell

A DIDCOT leader has warned the town is at risk of becoming more like a city, after planning permission was granted for 4,250 houses to be built on the edge of Didcot.

Vale of White Horse District Council's planning committee approved outline plans for the homes next to Great Western Park at a meeting in Wantage last Wednesday night.

The development would span the size of up to 293 football pitches and has been dubbed Valley Park.

Didcot Town Council leader Bill Service said: "This development will have a massive impact on the Didcot area to the extent that I absolutely think Didcot will not just become a garden town but a garden city."

There are about 11,000 houses in Didcot, a figure set to double by 2031 which could see the population grow from almost 30,000 to almost 60,000.

Didcot would then be bigger than cities including Hereford (55,000), Inverness (51,000) and Canterbury (42,000), and slightly smaller than Lincoln (86,000) and Durham (87,000).

Cllr Service said an extension of Didcot's boundaries to the A34 Milton Interchange would be necessary to include Valley Park as part of the town.

That would raise the income for Didcot Town Council through extra council tax collected due to the increase in properties within the boundary area.

Valley Park plans were submitted by Hallam Land Management and are to include three schools, two small retail hubs, a leisure centre with a 57-station gym, a community centre, two parks with football pitches, tennis courts, a cricket pitch, a skate or parkour park, a multi-use games area and a pavilion.

Shock at treatment of Didcot Three families

• The scene at Didcot A Power Station site

AN MP has said she is 'genuinely shocked' at the way the families of the missing trio in the rubble at Didcot A Power Station have been treated.

Rotherham MP Sarah Champion attended a meeting with representatives from the Health and Safety Executive (HSE), Thames Valley Police, site owners RWE and the families of the trapped men at the station last Wednesday.

The meeting marked around eight weeks since part of the power station's main building buckled, killing one and burying three men working to decommission the station.

An operation to clear the rubble and recover the men's bodies

By Loughlan Campbell

began on March 19, almost one month after the disaster on February 23 as emergency services feared the rest of the building could collapse at any time on rescue teams.

Last Wednesday rescuers announced 40 metres of the 20,000 tonnes of rubble at the site had been cleared but the men had still not been found.

Sarah Champion MP said: "I was genuinely shocked at the way the grieving families were treated by RWE. Rather than apologies and offers of support it was as if the families were seen as an annoyance.

"I fully appreciate the complexities of the recovery, but fail to understand why that means RWE can't act in a respectful and compassionate way towards the families.

"I left the meeting furious, so I can't imagine how the families must feel, it's disgusting and immoral."

Christopher Huxtable, 34, from Swansea and Ken Cresswell, 57, and John Shaw, 61, both from Rotherham, are still missing. Mick Collings, 53, from North Yorkshire, died during the incident.

Ms Champion's comments came as RWE's experts said the 'quickest and safest way' to bring the rest of the boiler house building down would be via explosive demolition.

Kelly Nye, spokesperson for RWE, said: "We are deeply aware that the ongoing recovery to find the missing men must be extremely painful for all the families.

"That's why our contractors are working seven days a week, 12 hours a day to ensure this is done as quickly as possible.

"We also understand that any potential work involving further demolition on site causes distress for the families, however the recovery work can only be completed safely once the unstable standing structure has been brought down.

"Having explored other manual options, our experts have made it clear that the quickest and safest way to bring the building down is by controlled explosive demolition."

She added that they would 'ensure' the remaining structure would fall away form the current debris pile.

About 250 pieces of rubble of all sizes and weights have been removed for evidence processing.

Forensic archaeologists, metallurgists and structural engineers are working with drones and camera equipment to obtain information about the debris pile and the standing structure of the building.

More than 32,000 people have signed a petition set up by Mr Huxtable's partner Jade Ali, 28, calling for emergency services to find the missing trio following the collapse.

Demolition company Coleman & Company was more than halfway through a three-year project to demolish the coal-fired plant when it collapsed.

RWE ran the power station before it shut in March 2013.

Air show flies with new rules

ABINGDON: The Abingdon Air and Country Show takes off this bank holiday weekend with flying displays by various aircraft.

The show will open its gates at 10am on Abingdon Airfield one mile outside of the town.

Tough regulations will be in place this year for aircraft displays after the Shoreham air disaster, when a Hawker Hunter crashed at a show in Sussex last August. A total of 11 people died and 16 were injured in the crash last August.

Temporary road closures will be in place on Sunday to improve safety and there will also be increased security on the airfield.

Knifepoint attack

BICESTER: A man in his 40s suffered cuts to his arms after fighting off would-be robbers last Tuesday, April 19.

The victim was approached by two men while walking in the park area of Redwing Close towards Peregrine Drive at about 8.45pm.

Offenders threatened the man and demanded he hand over his mobile phone and cigarettes.

One man had a knife and the victim punched out at the offenders and suffered injuries while trying to defend himself

Both men are white, and the man holding the knife is described as around 5ft 7ins tall, in his late teens with greasy hair, a gaunt long face and a patchy beard.

He was wearing a dark windcheater jacket and dark skinny jeans.

The second is younger, around 5ft 5ins and stocky.

He wore a dark hooded jumper.

Teenagers charged after Blackbird Leys stabbing

THREE Oxford teenagers have been arrested after an 18-year-old man was stabbed in the back in broad daylight in Blackbird Leys after a fight.

One 15-year-old and two 16-year-olds were arrested on Tuesday on suspicion of wounding with intent and have been released on police bail until June 5.

The 18-year-old victim was treated for a stab wound to his back at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital after the incident in Druce Way on Monday, April 17, at around 3.50pm. He has since been discharged.

Police are appealing to track down two other men involved in the fight.

One is described as a black man in his twenties, around 6ft 1ins, wearing a grey hood over his head and a bomber style jacket.

He also wore Nike air force trainers and is believed to be from London because of his accent.

The second man is also believed to be a black man in his twenties who wore a dark blue Lacoste baseball cap on the right hand side of his head.

He had black hair, was clean shaven, around 5ft 9ins, and of a smaller build to the first man.

He also spoke with a London accent.

Anyone with information is asked to call Detective Constable Stuart Carey from Oxford CID on 101.

Residents vent fury over extra traffic and flooding risk

Anger over housing plan

By Loughlan Campbell

RESIDENTS of Milton have been protesting every Friday for a month against plans unveiled to build new houses in the village.

Villagers are warning the proposal for 47 homes on fields off High Street will exacerbate traffic, sewage and flooding problems.

A planning application has not yet been submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council by property developer Linden Homes, but a public consultation was held in the village last Wednesday.

Rallies of about 15 resident have been held on Fridays from 4pm until 6pm at Linden's Milton Park base.

Linden are close to completing a 31-home development in Milton off Sutton Road, and have planning permission for 28 homes on land off Milton Road in neighbouring Sutton Courtenay.

Ann Wattam, 57, of School Lane, said: "We didn't object to these developments as they are appropriate sites for housing. However, this site is not in any way.

"The fields flooded badly in 2007 and in 2014 and are known to have sewage problems.

"You also have to take into account the horrendous traffic problems in Milton as we take in all the drivers going to Milton Park and the A34 from Sutton Courtenay, Abingdon and Drayton. It's an absolute standstill here in the morning."

A petition against the development has also been signed by 100 residents.

A spokesperson for Linden Homes said: "In the coming weeks, we will be reviewing all the feedback received [at the consultation] and finalising our plans ahead of submitting an application to the Vale council towards the end of May."

The land is owned by Milton Park's owners, MEPC, and chairman of Milton Parish Council, Simon Glazebrook.

But resident say they have been 'let down' by not having been told of the plans sooner.

Didcot's MP Ed Vaizey helped set up a 'liaison committee' between MEPC and the neighbouring parish councils and residents in 2011 to improve communication between them about future development plans.

However, members of the committee claim that after several meetings were postponed, residents were only informed about the plans after Milton parish councillor Stuart Jarvis handed out leaflets last month.

Mrs Wattam's husband John, 57, of School Lane, sits on the committee.

He said "It's very sad that we had to find out about these plans through leaflets, especially given the fact that a committee was set up especially to stop things like this happening.

"We feel very let down about it and I confronted MEPC about it in a liaison committee at the end of last month and only then did they apologise to us about it and said they hope we hadn't had found out about it in this way."

A spokesperson for MEPC said: "For over 30 years we have worked hard to build a strong and constructive relationship with the local community and will continue to do so."

• Posters against the development have been put up throughout the village

Call for infrastructure

• From front page

Didcot was allocated garden town status by the Government in December, making the town a priority for development.

But Cllr Service added: "We just don't have the infrastructure at the moment. The Northern Perimeter Road is at least two years away for a start."

Plans for Didcot include doubling lanes on the A4130 between Didcot and the A34, a £35 million Science Bridge over the A4130, a Harwell link road between the B4993 and A417 and an extension of the Northern Perimeter Road to Hadden Hill.

Vale's planning committee chairman Robert Sharp said: "Overall, we thought it was a good scheme. It's wide and it has a good spine coming through it. We're excited and looking forward to seeing how the application develops."

The land is earmarked for 'at least' 2,550 homes in the Vale's draft Local Plan 2031. But the approved plan is 67 per cent larger.

A Government planning inspector has not yet finished evaluating the plan before it can be adopted.

David Marsh, chairman of Harwell Parish Council said that the decision to approve the development is 'incredibly disappointing' for Harwell residents.

He told the Guardian: "It was probably inevitable that the council would approve it but it is still incredibly disappointing to hear the news.

"It very much sounds like it was a rubber stamping exercise for the councillors."

He added: "They could have at least questioned the loss of green land in the village as a result of this application.

"We're in danger of losing our green gap."

Teen robbed of scooter by older boys

A 14-YEAR-OLD boy was robbed of his scooter by a gang of older teenagers in Didcot.

The boy was walking along Wessex Road pushing his scooter when a group of older teenagers approached him. One of them pushed him and grabbed the scooter, before running away.

The boy was not injured during the incident on Saturday, April 16, between about 4pm and 5pm.

The offender is thought to be white, older than 14, about 5ft 6ins, and was wearing a black hooded jumper with a white Adidas logo on the front top left, and three white lines down each arm.

The scooter has white handle bars with black writing on it with black grips, and a black base with a grey skull on the underside. The wheels are dark grey and the front wheel was loose.

Investigating officer, PC Jason Walsh of local CID based at Abingdon Police Station, said: "We would like to anyone who may have information about this robbery."

He added that the neighbourhood team have been on patrol in the area since the incident occurred to offer reassurance.

Anyone who saw any information is asked to call police on 101.

Pensioner stabbed in Chipping Norton attack

By Alex Ballinger

A 43-YEAR-OLD man from Chipping Norton has been charged with assaulting an elderly woman in an attack in Chipping Norton on Monday.

A woman in her 70s was rushed to hospital with stab wounds shortly after 5pm in a life-threatening condition, after emergency services were called to a house in Hailey Avenue.

Police said yesterday the victim is in a stable condition at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital.

Steven Williams, of Hailey Road, Chipping Norton, was charged with one count of section 18 wounding yesterday morning after being arrested on Monday.

Spokesperson for South Central Ambulance Service, David Gallagher, said: "She had to be taken to hospital straight away. Without speedy treatment she probably would have died.

"The elderly woman had suffered life threatening injuries."

A rapid response vehicle, an ambulance and an air ambulance were called to the scene and the victim was take to hospital by road.

Local police area commander for Cherwell and West Oxfordshire, Kath Lowe, said on Tuesday: "This appears to be an isolated incident, however there are officers in the area and if anyone has any information or any concerns please approach and speak to an officer or call our 24-hour enquiry centre on 101."

Senior Investigating officer Detective Inspector Larry Johnson said: "I would like to appeal to anyone who saw anything suspicious in the area at around the time of the incident, or anyone who has any information, which could assist enquiries to speak to police.

"A woman has sustained serious injuries and detectives are investigating to establish the circumstances."

Detective Inspector Jonathan Capps, from Oxfordshire Force CID, said: "We are investigating this incident to establish the circumstances."

Anyone with any information is asked to call police on 101.

Sex offender jailed for crimes against Oxford girl

A 52-YEAR-OLD man has been jailed for five years for sex offences against children, including a girl under 13 in Oxford.

Michael Strang, of Witton Park in Stockton on Tees, County Durham was jailed at Aylesbury Crown Court last Friday.

Strang incited a girl under 13 to engage in sexual activity in Oxford between August 2005 and August 2007.

He also incited a girl under 14 to commit an act of gross indecency in Milton Keynes between September 1990 and December 1991.

The jury returned a guilty verdict after just 23 minutes of deliberation.

Strang was arrested on November 20 2014 and charged on September 28 last year.

Bicester to Bilbao for hospice

A TRIO of Oxfordshire students will be dedicating two weeks of their summer holidays to cycling more than 1,000km from Oxfordshire to Spain in a charity quest.

Alex Milne, from Lyford near West Hanney, will be tackling the colossal challenge pedalling from Bicester to Bilbao in support of Oxford children's and young peoples' hospice Helen and Douglas House.

The 17-year-old will be joined by classmates Cosmo Cotton and Alistair Gethin, also 17, to raise over £7,000.

Alex, who attends Radley College near Abingdon, said: "We chose Helen and Douglas House because it is a local charity and supports teenagers.

"We know how fortunate we are to be able to go out with friends, go to music festivals and play sports. Many of the young adults who go to Douglas House are not so fortunate.

"We think that it is a very special place."

The team will be leaving from Bicester on July 3 and will survive on a budget of just £50 a day for accommodation.

Taking only one rest day they will cover 1,126km, or 700 miles, in 14 days to arrive in the Spanish city of Bilbao on July 18.

Cosmo said: "We chose a cycle challenge because we imagine that the sense of satisfaction when we reach Bilbao after having cycled over 1,100km will be extraordinary.

They have already raised more than £2,800.

Oxford's roughest nightclub revealed

By Loughlan Campbell

POPULAR student nightclub Purple Turtle had the highest number of police incidents over the last five years out of Oxford's clubs, with officers called to the venue 396 times.

An investigation into the city's nightclubs by the Oxfordshire Guardian found the student hotspot off Frewin Court equated for more than a fifth of all clubbing incidents reported to police in Oxford from 2011 until April 14 this year.

Purple Turtle is owned and run by world-renowned debating society Oxford Union.

Oxford Union declined to comment on the figures.

The results of the Freedom of Information request submittedto Thames Valley Police also found Atik in Park End Street had already recorded 44 incidents this year alone.

Throughout the whole of last year the club had 33 incidents, but it was run as Lava Ignite until September last year when Atik took over the site.

Atik general manager Nick Greensted said: "The safety and enjoyment of our customers is our main priority and we set the highest standards possible.

"We do not tolerate anti-social behaviour of any kind and we will have no hesitation in reporting any incidents to the police to make sure that we will continue to set the bar in Oxford."

Mr Greensted added the results can also be put down to the three-floored club being the largest in Oxford.

Lava Ignite moved out on August 22 last year before Atik launched on September 11 following £500,000 worth of refurbishments at the venue.

Atik is owned by Deltic Group, which picked up the Responsible Retailer of the Year award at the national Publican Awards in Edinburgh last month.

Purple Turtle's 396 reported incidents was the highest of 10 Oxford nightclubs. The Bridge nightclub in Hythe Bridge Street was second with 345.

The Guardian investigation also found police response to the reports dropped sharply in the first four months of this year.

Of 194 incidents reported to the police up until April 14 this year, the force went to the scene on 104 occasions (53 per cent).

This is a large drop from the whole of 2015 when police went to the scene 83 per cent of the time. From the five years spanning 2011 to 2015 police attendance was at its lowest in 2011 when officers went to 78 per cent of reported clubbing incidents.

Supt Christian Bunt, LPA Commander for Oxford said: "In recent months we have started to become far more effective in assessing what we need to attend. Historically, we have attended incidents that should and could have been dealt with by the premises themselves.

"This was a drain on police resources and meant that our resources became very stretched at peak times."

In total over the last five years, police attended 81 per cent of the 1,828 reported incidents.

Anti-flooding rail plan gets support

AN £18 million plan to raise part of the railway track between Oxford and Didcot and build drainage channels underneath to stop them flooding in bad weather has been supported by city council officers.

Network Rail's plan to elevate the line between Hinksey Drain and Hinksey Stream has previously come under scrutiny by Oxford City Council for the potential flooding effect it could have on neighbouring properties.

But city council officers have recommended the application for approval in a report published on Monday ahead of a special meeting of the council's west area planning committee next Tuesday at 2pm in Oxford Town Hall.

Officer Fiona Bartholomew said: "Benefits of this scheme outweigh the impacts of the modelled increased flood risk."

The section of the rail track closed for seven days in 2007 and shut in 2014 due to flooding. The plan would raise the 1.2km track out of the flood level to a maximum of 430mm on the main lines under Abingdon Road Bridge. A dam would be created across the flood plain which could increase flood risk elsewhere. But the Environment Agency has proposed twin culverts to help prevent the flood risk.

Cyclist returns from mammoth world trip

By Loughlan Campbell

AN Oxford bookshop worker has arrived home from a 22-month round-the-world cycling trip that saw him cross three continents and travel more than 20,000 miles.

Dan Dispain, 40, of Temple Cowley, decided in April 2014 that he wanted to see the world on a bicycle – and two months later he was off.

He has pedalled across America, fought the bitterly cold mountainous region of Kyrgyzstan in central Asia, and seen the lights of Tokyo all from the saddle.

Dan, who worked at The Last Bookshop in Walton Street, visited 28 countries during the journey.

He returned on Saturday to rapturous applause by family and friends at Martyrs Memorial in Broad Street, having not stepped foot in Oxford since he first set off on June 13 almost two years ago.

• Dan is welcomed home by friends

Dan told the Guardian: "I always wanted to travel the world and after reading some amazing stories about it I decided to just go for it.

"I had no clue what lay in store for me when I set off. People would just come up to you, no matter where you were and offer you help and food.

"As a cyclist, you just get such a different feel of the countries you're visiting than if you were in a car. You see every odd town, visit the people and take in their culture on a more personal level, it's just amazing."

Travel diaries of cyclists caught Dan's eye in the bookshop, and inspired him to pedal off.

He began the trek with a cycle down to London before getting the ferry over to Amsterdam where he proceeded to cycle around Europe until September, before moving through central Asia alongside the Aral Sea into January last year.

He then moved through Thailand, Burma, Cambodia, Vietnam, and China until last August, before cycling through Japan and South Korea the next month.

In September he then flew to Canada from Tokyo before cycling across North America and flying home.

Dan finished the final leg of his trip by bike from London to Oxford last week.

On arriving home, he said: "I felt like a celebrity when I turned up. There were lots of banners and people celebrating.

"I said to myself that I would fight back the tears but I think I did get a bit emotional. It was just amazing to see everybody."

Dan added that he's already planning his next adventure, targeting Africa as the next destination.

He added: "It's all been a bit surreal since I got home and I'm already setting out my next plan!

"I'm probably going to work a bit before I head off."

Dan kept a blog of his hourney at dandispainselfiesaroundtheworld.blogspot.co.uk

Motorbike theft

OXFORD: A motorbike was stolen from a Barton road last weekend.

The silver Yamaha NXC 125 was taken from Fettiplace Road overnight on Sunday, April 24, while parked outside the owners property. It was found in a field behind Fettiplace Road.

Jobs at risk

OXFORD: Menswear shop Austin Reed has announced it is going into administration, putting over 1,000 jobs at risk, including at its store in Cornmarket Street, Oxford.

Austin Reed has 100 stores in the UK and has seen sales fall in recent years.

The shop was bought last week by retail company Alteri Investors for an unknown sum.

Administrators will try to sell the business as a whole but if a buyer cannot be found it will be broken up to pay off debts.

Closure delay

OXON: Oxfordshire's 44 children centres are to remain open until March next year after they were initially planned to shut in September to cut costs.

Oxfordshire County Council announced the extension last week and said the delay will give it time to work with community groups to keep as many centres open as possible.

Bike theft CCTV

DIDCOT: An appeal has been launched after a mountain bike was stolen from outside Argos in the Orchard Centre last Thursday, April 21.

Between 4.30pm and 4.45pm the black and red Giant bike with black and white mudguards was stolen after being left outside by its owner.

Police released a CCTV image on Monday (below) of a man they want to speak to in connection with the theft.

Klitschko visit

OXFORD: Former world heavyweight boxing champion and potential future president of the Ukraine, Vitali Klitschko, will be appearing at the Oxford Union tonight to deliver a speech to members.

Following his retirement from sport Dr Klitschko, 44, became heavily involved in politics and is currently serving as the Mayor of Kiev.

He will be appearing at the venue in Frewin Court at 7pm this evening.

Watchdog issues damning report of nursing home

By Alex Ballinger

HEALTH inspectors observing an elderly care home in Wantage had to intervene after a resident needing the toilet was left unattended for almost three hours.

Wantage Nursing Home, in Garston Lane, has been slammed by health watchdog, the Care Quality Commission (CQC), in a report published last week.

It raised welfare fears and branded safety at the home caring for about 39 people as 'inadequate'. It was rated 'requires improvement' in four other areas, and overall.

The CQC report said: "The service was not safe. Call bells were not always responded to in a timely manner.

"We observed throughout our inspection that care staff on both floors were often rushed and did not have the time to meet people's needs.

"For example, one person required support with their continence needs. We observed this person waited for two hours and 45 minutes and no care staff came to attend this person."

The report said inspectors then alerted the manager that the resident needed help.

The surprise inspection in February found people are not protected against risks of infection, a shortage of staff, and people are not always treated with dignity and respect.

The report added: "People told us there were not enough staff. Comments included 'they are very short staffed, sometimes you have to lay in bed, sometimes it can be eleven or twelve o'clock before they get you up'."

Wantage Nursing Home is run by Sanctuary Care, based in Worcester, which also manages three other care homes in Oxfordshire.

Director of care operations at Sanctuary Care, Stephen Rees, said: "We strive to deliver the highest standard of care consistently, for every resident, so have been deeply disappointed by the report.

"We are working tirelessly to established sustained improvements at the home.

"I would like to assure everyone that we remain committed to delivering care that is centre on our residents and founded on kindness, security and respect."

Inspectors also found there was only one hoist sling among 12 people who needed it.

Having one sling was also a safety risk as it can be uncomfortable for residents if it is too small, and a risk of people falling out if it is too big, according to the report.

The CQC report added said: "We observed a person was not fully clothed and they had their bedroom door propped open with a trolley, which exposed them to people in the corridor.

"We observed people sat for long periods of time with no interactions from staff. We saw staff did not always have time to speak with people and explain what they were doing before supporting people."

Red Kites hit with shotgun 'lucky to have survived'

• The rescued Red Kites

TWO injured birds of prey hit with shotgun pellets in woods near Wallingford are lucky to be alive.

Two Red Kites were found injured one week apart in Oakley Wood near Crowmarsh Gifford - one on Tuesday, March 29 and the other on Tuesday, April 5.

The birds are being cared for at animal hospital Tiggywinkles in Haddenham, Buckinghamshire, where x-rays show both Red Kites had been hit with shotgun pellets.

Thames Valley Police also revealed on Monday that a dead Red Kite was found in the same wood the previous Tuesday, March 22, with the cause of death not yet known.

PC Robert Searle, wildlife officer at Thames Valley Police, said: "The two birds were very lucky to survive and I would like to thank Tiggywinkles for caring for birds so well.

"Fortunately, incidents of this nature are very rare in the Thames Valley and a thorough investigation is underway."

He appealed for anyone with information to call police on 101.

Red Kites have the highest degree of legal protection under the Schedule 1 of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981. It is illegal to take, injure, or kill a Red Kite, or to damage its net, eggs or young.

Offenders can be fined up to £5,000 per offence and jailed for up to six-months.

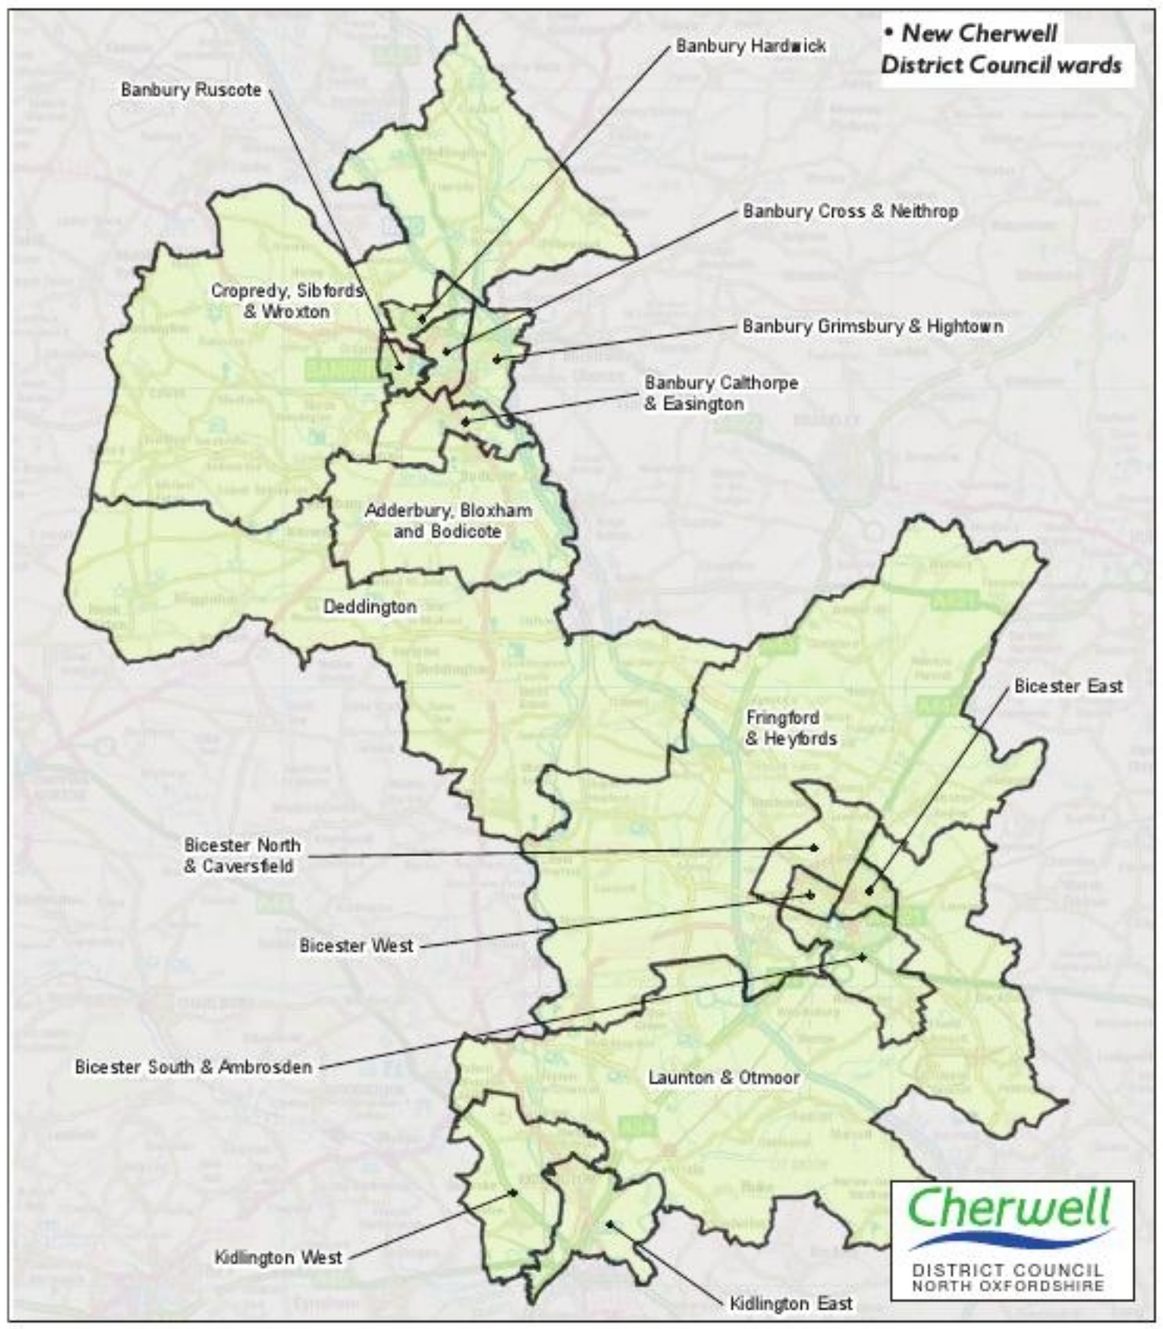
Residents head to the polls on May 5 to pick their representatives



Elections: Cherwell District Council

By Alex Ballinger

COUNCILLORS on Cherwell District Council will be among those across Oxfordshire battling for power next week with all seats on the Conservative controlled council up for grabs.

The number of seats on the council is also falling by two from 50 to 48 after a redrawing of ward boundaries.

Cherwell voters last went to the polls for 17 seats on May 7 last year, the same day as the 2015 General Election, but all seats are back up for election because of the boundary changes.

Last time round voters overwhelmingly supported the sea of blue.

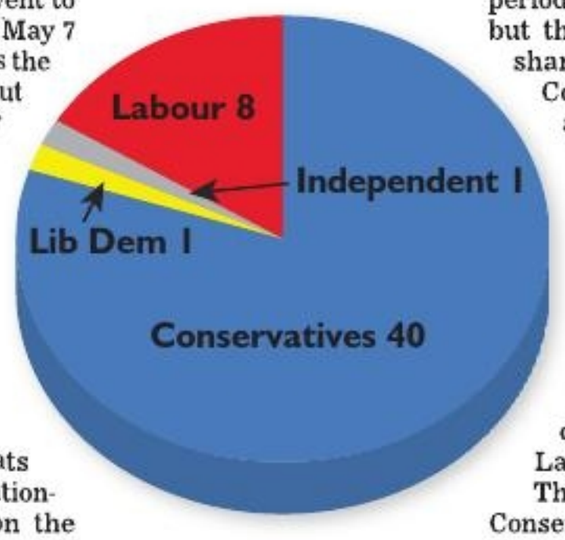
Conservatives made a gain of one seat, extending their control to a total of 41.

The Liberal Democrats had an awful election nationally, partly reflected on the council as their number fell from two down to one.

Labour held their seven seats on the council and the sole independent councillor, Les Sibley also kept his Bicester West seat.

Seats on the council have shifted ever so slightly since last May due to by-elections, with the Conservatives dropping one seat to Labour, who increased by one to eight.

The political make-up of Cherwell



But because seats on the council have been cut by two this year, the election fight could be more contentious than usual as parties rally to claim those on offer on Thursday, May 7.

Cherwell has been Conservative-ruled since the 2000 election, prior to which there had been no overall control.

The council was actually Labour controlled for a short period between 1996 and 1998, but the party was forced to share power between the Conservatives, Lib Dems and a single independent councillor between '98 and 2000.

Conservatives battled to win seven seats in the 2000 election, six of which had been held by Labour previously, to give then an overall majority on the council with 15 seats to two Labour.

The district has been a Conservative safe council ever since.

RAF march with bayonets to beating drums

PEOPLE are being urged to take to the streets of Thame to support RAF Halton's Freedom Parade.

Troops from the RAF, Army and Navy will take part in the parade on Sunday, May 8, at 11am.

The regiment will parade through the town centre to the High Street where Thame's mayor will inspect the troops.

Dignitaries including the chairman of South Oxfordshire District Council Margaret Turner, Oxfordshire County Council's leader Ian Hudspeth, and local MP John Howell will be there to take the salute.

RAF Halton, near Aylesbury, was given the Freedom of Thame – the highest civic honour that can be given to a military unit – in 2012.

It means the troops can parade through the town centre with swords drawn, bayonets fixed, drums beating, bands playing and 'Colours flying'.

Troops also paraded in the town centre during a royal visit by the Duchess of Cornwall.

Road closures will be in force from 9am to 1pm along High Street, Cornmarket and Butter Market. There will be a rolling road closure in place in Southern Road.

Appeal to help Olly as tragedy strikes

By Jayne Smith

IN just a few hours little Oliver Johnson changed from being a happy-go-lucky child to a little boy fighting for his life.

The three-year-old, known as Olly, was poorly with a sickness bug when he began to deteriorate and had a seizure.

His parents Suzanna, 35, and telecoms engineer Michael, 37, called 999 and Olly was rushed to Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, where he was admitted to intensive care.

Mrs Johnson, who also has a 14-week old daughter Isabelle, said: "After numerous tests the doctors informed my husband Micheal and myself that our poor Olly had been struck down with Encephalitis, a deadly virus that had attacked his brain and brain stems.

"We as parents have been given the devastating news that our beautiful little boy may never be able to function as he once did."

Olly, who went to Tiddlywinks in Ambrosden, is now unable to walk or talk and needs around-the-clock-care.

His parents, who live in Ambrosden, near Bicester, have launched a £150,000 fund raising appeal to buy specialist equipment for Olly and are looking into taking him for specialist physiotherapy rehabilitation at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, in Baltimore, America.

Mrs Johnson said: "As Olly's parents, we need to plan for the long and difficult years ahead, and we know we will need financial support.

"We have been advised by The Encephalitis Society that we as a family should take Olly to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore in the USA to get the best possible treatment in physiotherapy rehabilitation.

"This journey will involve not only the treatment costs at the hospital but also the additional expense of air medical transport to America.

"We are investigating all avenues, and looking into the newest treatments around which may or may not be available in the UK."

Mrs Johnson said for them the most important thing was for Olly to 'enjoy his life'.

She said: "We know he will never get back to how he was, but if we can help him as much as possible he will hopefully still have a good life, that's all we want is for our little Oliver, to have a happy and good life."

Olly is still in hospital and doctors say it could be months before he can go home.

Anyone who can help is asked to view the family's fundraising site gofundme.com/helpsaveolly

Car break-in

BICESTER: Offenders broke into a car parked at Launton playing fields, Bicester Road, Launton, last Monday, April 18, between 8.50am to 9.50am, and stole a mobile phone.

People are being warned to be extra vigilant. Anyone who saw anything suspicious or has any information about the incident should call the Bicester neighbourhood team via 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Bags of rotting food fly-tipped

BICESTER: More than a dozen black bags containing food waste and peelings were dumped in a layby on the B4011 near Piddington, towards Thame, last Wednesday, April 20.

The majority of the bags contained rotting food including potatoes and carrots which can be recycled for compost in Cherwell District Council's brown household bins.

Council officers cleared the rubbish from the site and are now trying to trace those responsible. It is the second time in the past month that there has been a fly-tip of household waste in the layby.

Anyone with information can call Cherwell District Council confidentially on 01295 227007.

Thame radio station boost

By Loughlan Campbell

A COMMUNITY radio station for Thame has been given a major boost.

Last week Red Kite Radio was awarded a five-year licence by communications regulator Ofcom.

The station, which currently operates on a part time basis, now has two years to get a full time FM station off the ground.

Based at Haddenham Garden Centre, Red Kite Radio will broadcast local news and help promote charities, schools and groups across Haddenham, Thame and surrounding villages.

Pete MacFarlane, general manager of Red Kite Radio said: "We are all delighted to be awarded this licence by Ofcom.

"The regulator can clearly see the huge amount of support from charities, groups and residents of both Haddenham and Thame for what we do.

"We'd like to thank the people and organisations who took the time to write and support our application and those who participated in our application research."

Plans include operating the station 24-hours a day, every day of the year, offering a news service, tackling local issues and covering events.

It says it plans to involve charities, schools, sports clubs, churches, community groups in coverage and offer radio skills training courses to local people.

The team of volunteers behind the radio station have professional backgrounds in national and local radio.

The idea for the station came from a conversation in a pub more than three years ago.

Initially the team created summer broadcasts to support Haddenham summer beer festivals – called Summerfest – now it wants to take it a step further.

Mr MacFarlane said: "Red Kite Radio will continue to support the Haddenham Beer Festivals Trust, promoting not just one but both its annual fundraisers.

"Being on air 365 days a year means we will now be able to promote the Winterfest event and cover the various beneficiaries and the subsequent grant awards by the trust throughout the year."

Red Kite Radio will help fund itself by selling advertising to local businesses.

Ofcom said: "Community radio services are provided on a not-for-profit basis, focusing on the delivery of specific social benefits to a particular geographical community or a community of interest."

Witney Radio was also awarded a five-year licence.

Scouts celebrate St George with parade

HUNDREDS of Scouts, Cubs and Beavers took to the streets of Bicester to celebrate St George's Day on Sunday.

Scouts from Bicester, Banbury and surrounding villages took part in the event.

A parade started from Bicester's Methodist Church in Sheep Street at 2.15pm, and made its way around Priory Road, the Causeway and Old Place Yard to Pingle field.

Bicester's deputy mayor Yolanta Lis, district commissioner Nick Davis and county commissioner Phil Earl took the salute.

At Pingle Field all Scouts, Cubs and Beavers renewed their respective promises, there was a short service by The Rev Peter Wright, and Father Bob Atkins talked about St George.

Mr Davis was also presented with his Silver Acorn award for long-service to Scouting.

Afterwards youngsters were able to take part in a host of free activities including wall climbing, laser tag, unicycling, trampoline and an inflatable slide.

For the last two years the North Oxfordshire District has held its St George's Day parade at Heyford Park where Scouts paraded down the runway at the former US Air Force Base at Upper Heyford, near Bicester.

Next year the parade will take place in Banbury.

Skate park on-hold

CHIPPING NORTON: Town councillors have confirmed proposals to create a skate park in the town have been put on hold after a low response to a survey.

Town councillors want to site a skate park near Greystones Leisure Centre on land it owns.

But Cllr Mike Tysoe said parents wanted it built at New Street Recreation Ground where there are parking issues and which is rented.

Mr Tysoe said the skate park saga had been on-going for about 14 years and that the council had taken the decision to commit funding to other leisure projects.

Carnival volunteers needed for festival

THAME: Volunteers are needed to help out at Thame Carnival on Saturday, June 11.

Among the roles is parade organiser and parade marshals to ensure floats set off in the right order and rolling road closures take place.

Bunting project volunteers are also needed to be part of a community project to create enough bunting to decorate the street party at the Thame Carnival this summer.

Among the groups signed up already is Thame WI, Barley Hill Church and The Orders of St John Care Trust who run Meadowcroft Care Home.

Home plan details

THAME: Final details for a 175-home development have been recommended for approval at a South Oxfordshire District Council planning meeting tonight, April 27.

Outline planning permission was granted for a residential development at land to the west of Thame Park Road, Thame, in June 2014.

Details about appearance, landscaping, layout and scale were not agreed at the time.

Car crash appeal

ISLIP: An appeal has been launched after a crash between the A34 and Islip on Sunday, April 17.

A black Ford Kuga and a grey Skoda Octavia travelling in opposite directions collided at around 3.45pm.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Cyclists dismount

OXFORD: Cyclists in the city are being asked to dismount in Queen Street when passing the on-going construction work at Westgate shopping centre.

The road has been made narrower and Oxfordshire County Council warned cyclists risk colliding with oncoming traffic.

A £440 million revamp of Westgate is set to be complete by October next year.

College launches pilot for underprivileged students

By Alex Ballinger

AN Oxford University college has announced a new pilot scheme aimed at building a more inclusive atmosphere.

The new foundation year will be open to 12 people from 'under-represented' backgrounds and is set to start this autumn.

Principal at the college and former editor-in-chief of The Guardian newspaper, Alan Rusbridger, came up with the project after visiting Dublin's Trinity College where a similar scheme is run.

Mr Rusbridger said: "We're intending to start it this autumn in the expectation of finding 12 exceptionally bright candidates who are interested in coming to Oxford, regardless of any obstacles they may have encountered so far in their lives.

"The problem is easily understood: nearly 20,000 young people apply for 3,200 places at Oxford.

"The scheme is obviously a tiny one in the wider context of Oxford and Cambridge. But, so far as I know, it's the first time it's been tried in Oxbridge."

Over 46,000 university hopefuls recived AAA+ at A-level in 2012 and the number of A-grades has grown by over 38 per cent since 2004 according to the university.

Applications to Oxford undergraduate courses have increased by 46 per cent in the same period.

Potential students under the new scheme will be picked up from disadvantaged areas and places with low higher education records.

Students will be required to undertake different exams and written assignments based on their chosen course.

The foundation year has been backed by Labour MP David Lammy who previously has criticized the university for its admission process.

He said: "I have long argued that we need to increase diversity at Oxford University and action of this sort is long overdue."

Around 44 per cent of those admitted to Oxford went to independent schools compared with only seven per cent nationally, according to Mr Rusbridger.

Vice-chancellor of Oxford University, Professor Louise Richardson, said: "Oxford is committed to recruiting the best and brightest students whatever their background.

"One of the many advantages of the collegiate system is that it allows us to engage in a small scale pilot like this to help us identify innovative ways to recruit under-represented groups."

The scheme will be partly styled on the Trinity Access Programmes Foundation Course which was set up by Trinity College Dublin 17 years ago.

According to Trinity College around 90 per cent of those undertaking the foundation year then progress to degree level courses.

Police raid uncovers large cannabis farm in rural Oxfordshire village

• Police found more than 150 cannabis plants during a raid

A 51-year-old man from Brightwell-cum-Sotwell has been arrested after police discovered a cannabis farm of over 150 plants in the village during a police raid.

Thames Valley Police executed a warrant at the property and released photos of Class B drug seized in a garage last Wednesday, April 20.

The man was arrested on suspicion of producing a controlled Class B drug (cannabis) and has been bailed until June 15.

Officers tweeted on Wednesday night: "A warrant executed today at a garage, Brightwell-cum-Sotwell, saw over 150 #cannabis plants seized and a male arrested."

The Oratory School, Woodcote, South Oxfordshire RG8 0PJ

THE Oratory School is set in a stunning Chilterns estate offering a unique all round education, both day and boarding, for boys from 11-18 years of age.

Inspirational teaching by highly qualified staff, that stretches and challenges each boy in and beyond the classroom, is key to our success. Our boys attain strong results in public examinations and move on to some of the best universities in the UK and elsewhere.

Equally important are leadership skills, obtained through our extensive extra-curricular programme, which includes the Duke of Edinburgh Award and CCF. Our sports' facilities are second to none and all boys are able to enjoy the 'outstanding' provision for sport, including a new multi-million pound Sports Centre with 25m pool, real tennis court, squash courts and gym. There is also a superb boat house on the River Thames, a nine hole golf course and an indoor shooting range. As a result an impressive number of boys compete at County and National levels across all sports.

Music, including the Schola Cantorum, recently returned from a successful New York tour, the Jazz Band and Strings' Groups, are likewise a real strength, along with Drama and our nationally acclaimed award-winning Art and Design Department.

'The spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of the pupils is excellent and the School provides excellent pastoral care. The quality of relationships between staff and pupils, and between pupils themselves, is excellent throughout the School', (ISI report 2014).

If you would like to register your son for one of our Taster Days, arrange for a personal tour, or enquire about our daily bus network, please email: enquiries@oratory.

Mum's mission for charity that helped family out of debt

By Loughlan Campbell

A MUM in 'dire straits' 10 years ago is hiking 87 miles in silence to raise money for the charity that supported her out of crushing financial debt.

Lizi Bowerman, from Harwell, is celebrating being debt-free for a decade by walking the Ridgeway through Oxfordshire for debt counselling charity Christians Against Poverty (CAP).

In 2006 she and partner Juan Bowerman filed for personal bankruptcy after clocking up £49,000 worth of debt in a court custody battle in 2004 over Mr Bowerman's children with his former wife.

The couple, who were living in Littlemore at the time, turned to the charity for help.

Mrs Bowerman told the Guardian: "We were in dire straits and just simply couldn't afford to pay the debt we owed.

"They came around, had a look at all our accounts, got in touch with all our creditors and simply took charge of the situation.

"We were concerned about how we were going to manage to keep everything going. It was quite scary."

To give something back Mrs Bowerman is in training to trek from Overton Hill on the edge of the Marlborough Downs in Wiltshire to Tring in Buckinghamshire, passing near Wantage, Streatley and Watlington on the way.

The quest starting on Bank Holiday weekend on Friday, May 27, could take three days.

She will be also be undertaking the walk in total silence to give a sense of what it feels like to owe so much money.

Mrs Bowerman added: "When you're faced with that kind of debt, it's a struggle to speak and you just feel so lost for words."

She said she and Mr Bowerman won the custody battle and have since had a daughter.

Mrs Bowerman, a finance assistant, has already raised £750 of a £1,500 target for CAP.

She also took up a post as centre manager for CAP's Oxford centre in 2008 before being promoted to area manager in 2010.

The charity has five bases in Oxfordshire; in Banbury, Chipping Norton, Wallingford, Witney, and Oxford.

Diesel theft

KIDLINGTON: Diesel and a sat nav were stolen from two vehicles in Kidlington overnight last Wednesday to Thursday, April 20 to 21.

A window of one of the vehicles was smashed during the thefts in Station Approach between 5.15pm and 6.35am.

Eating disorder study breaks new ground

OXFORD: Girls at schools with a higher proportion of female students are more likely to be diagnosed with eating disorders, an Oxford-led research study has found.

The results of a joint UK-Swedish study discovered schools with a higher ratio of girls to boys and whose pupil's parents are university-educated were more likely to be diagnosed with eating disorders.

Eating disorders including anorexia, bulimia, binge eating, and others not easily classified, affect 5.7 per cent of adolescent girls – almost two in a class of 30.

Dr Helen Bould, child and adolescent psychiatrist at Oxford University, led the research. She said: "For a long time clinicians in the field have noted that they seem to see more young people with eating disorders from some schools than others, but this is the first empirical evidence that this is the case."

The data was from schools in Sweden which does not have single sex schools because of strict laws on gender equality.

Man arrested after BMW fire in Oxford car park

A MAN from Oxford has appeared in court charged with arson after a silver BMW burst into flames closing Gloucester Green underground car park last Wednesday night.

Jason Griffiths, 45, of Bath Street, was at Oxford Magistrates' Court on Friday following the fire at about 7.30pm on April 20.

Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service sent six fire engines and four support vehicles from Kidlington, Eynsham, Rewley Road, Slade Park and Wheatley fire stations.

The car park was engulfed in dense smoke but firefighters and automatic water sprinklers helped suppress the fire to prevent it from spreading to other cars.

Crews fully extinguished the fire using high pressure hose reel jets, before four large portable fans were used to clear the car park of smoke and fire gases.

Firefighters were at the scene until just before 11pm.

Incident commander station manager Gary D'Anger said: "Fires in basements always present firefighting crews with an array of problems and can particularly difficult to deal with.

"Once crews are in the basement area conditions can be very difficult, hot and vision completely obscured due to the smoke and limited ventilation.

"The sprinkler system was extremely effective in containing the fire to a relatively small area."

WIN tickets to see Shakespeare in Ten Acts at the British Library

MARK 400 years of Shakespeare with Shakespeare in Ten Acts at the British Library. We're offering Oxfordshire Guardian readers the chance to win 1 of 10 pairs of tickets to this landmark exhibition.

Journey through 400 years of history – from the first productions of Hamlet and The Tempest – to understand how Shakespeare's plays have been transformed for new generations of theatre-goers. Imagine how audiences reacted to ground-breaking moments like the first stage appearance by a female actor in 1660 and the first British performance of Othello by a black actor in 1825.

Experience the glamour of Vivien Leigh's Lady Macbeth costume, the surprising circus prop from Peter Brook's radical 1970s A Midsummer Night's Dream, and the stunning detail of the award-winning costumes from Twelfth Night starring Mark Rylance, as performed at Shakespeare's Globe.

Shakespeare in Ten Acts showcases over 200 unique and rare items such as the only surviving play-script in Shakespeare's hand, an authentic Shakespeare signature, the earliest printed edition of Hamlet from 1603 and Shakespeare's First Folio. This landmark exhibition runs until 6 September 2016.

For more information and to book tickets, visit www.bl.uk/shakespeare-exhibition

Closing date: Friday, May 20.

We have 10 pairs of tickets to give away and to be in with a chance of winning 1 all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Q: When was the earliest edition of Hamlet printed?

Ts&Cs: Prize is 1 of 10 pairs of tickets to see Shakespeare in Ten Acts at the British Library, valid until Tue 6 Sep 2016. Subject to availability. Exclusions apply. Travel costs are not included in the competition prize. If a winner does not claim their prize within 10 days, then their prize will be forfeited and another winner selected in their place.

ADVERTORIAL

The Changing Face Of Men's Wedding Attire

British wedding habits have changed rapidly during the last few years, and this evolvement continues into 2016.

- The average wedding now costs over £16,000
- The trend for cupcakes is falling out of favour, being replaced with trends like cheese towers.
- Purple is the most popular bridesmaids dress colour
- 18% of newlyweds now honeymoon in the UK and 34% in Europe

These changes are also reflected in what the groom is opting to wear on his big day. At The Cotswold Tailor we have noticed big shifts in demand in both our hire department and our bespoke tailoring service, when it comes to wedding suits.

In 2015 we rented out not a single frock coat, and demand for morning coats fell significantly. When we did rent out a morning coat, more often than not the groom has opted to move away from traditional wedding waistcoats, and instead replaced these with tweed (see picture right).

Noticeably with both my bespoke and hire wear clients, there has been a shift towards: more tailored, three piece, slim-fit, lounge suits, particularly brighter blue shades. With many of my bespoke clients pointing out the benefits of getting frequent use out of the lounge suit post the wedding.

Possibly the biggest trend, however, has been in the rising popularity of tweed. As country/natural themed weddings have grown in popularity so too has the demand for both three piece tweed suits, but also the more relaxed look of a pair of chinos paired with tweed waistcoats and tweed jacket. (see picture right)

This look has become so popular that 2016 has seen us launch an entire new hire wear range dedicated to tweed.

MONEY MATTERS

2016-17 tax issues

THE MGROUP

Pensions

An individual can now contribute any amount into a pension scheme, but tax relief will only be given on the lower of earnings and an annual allowance. The annual allowance from 2014-15 onwards is £40,000. Any pension savings made up to the £40,000 limit will qualify for tax relief at a person's highest marginal rate of tax, be it the basic rate of 20%, the higher rate of 40% or the additional rate of 45%. Contributions above the annual allowance will incur a tax charge and this can be up to 55% of excess contribution.

Unused annual allowance for any tax year can be carried forward for up to three years, but only if the individual was a member of a pension scheme for a particular tax year, even if a deferred member. This means that the annual allowance is lost for any year in which a person was not a member of a pension scheme.

The current tax year allowance is utilised first followed by unused allowances from earlier years - with those from the earliest year used first.

There is a lifetime allowance, which is the total amount you can hold in pensions without incurring additional tax charges. From April 2016 this allowance is £1.0 million.

Pension flexibility

From April 2015 there has been complete flexibility regarding savings in personal pensions and other defined contribution schemes and withdrawals can be made from age 55. In some circumstances withdrawals can be made earlier for example if in poor health or a professional sportsperson. Workplace pensions often have specific rules as to when pensions can be taken and there could be penalties for early or indeed late retirement. It is always worth checking with your financial advisor and/or pension administrator when you should start taking money from your pension.

There remains of course the traditional annuity, which provides an annual income but there are now other ways of accessing a pension fund:

OPTION 1 - A tax free amount of 25% of the fund can be drawn at the start (known as a pension commencement lump sum), with the balance being available to draw as income (on which tax is payable). The fund will then be crystallised.

OPTION 2 - Withdrawals from the fund can be made as desired and instead of taking the whole 25% tax free amount at the start, for each withdrawal 75% would be taken as income and taxed and 25% would be tax free. The fund is left uncrystallised.

It is therefore possible for someone aged 55 to keep opening new pension schemes, benefit from tax relief, and then draw the pension with 25% being tax-free. In order to prevent this a money purchase annual allowance of £10,000 (instead of the usual £40,000) applies once a pension fund has been accessed flexibly. The money purchase annual allowance does not apply if only a pension commencement lump sum is taken without any further income being drawn.

This article is only to highlight the general tax issues of pension withdrawals. As each case will be different it is important to take more specialist advice from a financial advisor when considering pension withdrawals.

Summary

Saving for a pension is a long-term financial commitment and planning has often been undermined by frequent rule changes regarding tax relief. There may be even more changes because the Government is consulting on the possibility of completely reforming tax relief on pension contributions.

Buy to Let Property

The withdrawal of the wear and tear allowance for furnished property will have an impact on the rental profits of many landlords. Although expense claims can be made in the usual way, expense claims for replacing individual stand-alone items is now only dealt with on a "Renewals" basis, with the initial purchase cost not being allowable, but the cost of any like for like replacement is deductible, but excluding the cost of any significant improvement element. For example if a washing machine were replaced with a more elaborate washer-dryer.

What will have a more significant impact is the change in the treatment of loan/mortgage interest on capital used to purchase investment properties and this includes single buy to lets. The interest payments on these loans will be restricted and by 2020 they will no longer be an allowable expense.

The gradual reduction of allowable interest over the next 5 years will have a substantial impact on property owners where the annual interest is significant in relation to the rental income they receive and may in some cases make it unprofitable to invest in property.

The interest deduction will gradually reduce by 20% each year. An important aspect to note is that the reduced allowable amount will not simply be an expense deduction but instead will be treated as a tax reducer.

See Example (at bottom of page)

Another important issue is that, as the deduction is applied after the calculation of taxable profit, this could easily push a basic rate taxpayer into the higher rate band.

Whilst we have touched on these issues before it is an area very much worth keeping in mind.

	Current Rates £	New Rules £
Gross rents received	10,000	10,000
Expenses	(1,000)	(1,000)
Mortgage interest	(5,000)
Net taxable profit	4,000	9,000
Tax at say 40%	1,600	3,600
Less interest relief at 20% on £5,000		(1,000)
Net tax liability on rental income	1,600	2,600
Tax increase		1,000

The above points have been highlighted by Peter Smith, a partner at The MGroup Partnership, an efficient and friendly firm of chartered certified accountants and taxation advisors with offices in Witney and Oxford. Peter can be contacted at p.smith@theMgroup.co.uk if you would like to discuss your tax affairs or for more information please contact The MGroup on (Oxford) 01865 552925 or (Witney) 01993 776476.

How to help your dog stay cool

IT is vital that you seek veterinary attention if your dog develops heat stroke. Heat stroke can lead to multiple organ failure.

The signs of heat stroke can include:

• Heavy noisy panting, rapid heart rate and deep breathing, leading to slower efforts to breathe.

• An increase in thicker saliva, then dark red tacky dry gums. The mouth areas may get paler later.

• Weakness and disorientation, a glazed look.

• Vomiting and diarrhoea which may contain blood.

• Seizures or coma.

FIRST AID

• Shade your dog from further heat. Have your vet's number in your mobile and call your vet.

• Pour tepid water on the back of the dogs neck and chest. DO NOT USE very cold or ice water as it can slow the dog's cooling processes by constricting blood vessels *Partially cover in wet cool flannels and lay some underneath. Renew these frequently as they can trap in the heat.

• Offer small amounts of room temperature water to replace that lost by panting or squeeze out soaked flannels, wiping over the mouth and gums.

• Put a fan on if you have one, or create a draught.

If you how to monitor the temperature, stop the cooling process as soon as your dog's temperature reads normally again. The average temperature of a healthy dog is 101 °F (38 °C),but may range from 99 °F to 102.5 °F (37.2 °C–39.2 °C). Stop the cooling process as soon as your dog's temperature reads normally again.

Get ready to transport your dog to a nearby vet.

Good canine first aid courses could teach you how to do first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation-CPR.

Walk your dog in the early morning or late at night, do not excessively walk your dog.

Cool coats work well and wet neck bandanas, most dogs love paddling pools.

Give access to fresh clean water and take a bottle with you on a walk.

By all means brush out undercoat but do not clip your dogs out. A Boxer will be hotter than a Rough Collie.

Sunshine Cat Rescue is approaching its fourth "birthday"!

THE Charity has been incredibly successful since its inception, with the result that there's always lots of work to be done! We can always make use of more helpers and would welcome some new faces on the team. Specifically at the moment we really need more Home Visitors (particularly to cover the Bicester area),Fosterers, a Fundraiser, a Treasurer and a Publicity Officer.

Also, we need helpers who can regularly empty the food donation bins in various locations around the area.

Please call Lou on 01993 831 279 for more information about the available roles.

Kevin's STORY: Kevin is a five year old tabby who came into our care last November; a lady reported seeing him around, living in an old chicken house at the bottom of the garden and contacted Sunshine Cat Rescue. On checking him over, it was found that he had injuries to his leg and neck from a collar, in which his leg had been caught. The collar was cutting the skin almost to the bone.

Kevin was taken to the vets several times, at one point he collapsed and needed lots of tests to see what had caused this to happen. The blood test results showed that the red blood cell level had dropped dangerously low.

After lots of care and attention, Kevin has recovered really well, but still has to visit the vet twice a week for his bandages to be changed and blood tests. He is a lovely cat, despite everything he is going through.

At the end of January, Kevin's vet bill was £702.01 and is still rising, so any donations to help cover this cost would be very welcome.

Another surgical milestone

KEYHOLE surgery has been standard practice in human operating theatres for many years. More recently, vets have also been providing the service, but usually only at referral clinics and only by consultant vets. In 2012, after three years of study, Mr Jackson was awarded (by examination) a certificate* in minimally invasive surgical procedures - keyhole surgery. At that time, only 18 vets in the UK had been awarded this qualification.

The main reason we use this surgery is to spay dogs. Compared to conventional surgery, the benefits for the patient include much less pain - the incisions are very small and the manipulation of the internal structures is minimal (this is where most of the trauma and pain is caused). The recovery period is greatly reduced - 2-3 days, compared to 10-14 days with conventional surgery. The relative risks of complications related to the sutures and wound breakdown is greatly reduced. Mr Jackson has performed over 350 of these procedures (March, 2016) and has also performed over 100 other procedures including liver biopsies, bladder and ear examinations as well as chest surgery. *GPCert(Endo)

Dogs Need a Holiday too

AS WE are a nation renowned for our love of animals, it is not surprising that many dog owners feel uncomfortable at the thought of going away and leaving their best friend behind, especially if kennels are not for them.

Wagging Tails provide a home from home dog boarding service where dogs stay with one of their carefully selected carers as a member of the family for their very own holiday. All of their carers are experienced dog owners and are at home during the day to give the dogs the warmth and comfort they would get at home, along with plenty of exercise and attention.

Owners and their dogs get to meet the carer before the holiday begins to give them the reassurance of knowing where their dogs will be staying and the dogs get a chance to familiarise themselves with their holiday home.

Matching dogs to the most suitable carer is paramount to Wagging Tails, to ensure that the dogs are content and their owners can then relax whilst they are away; carers will only look after one family's dog(s) at any time.

Due to the popularity of this service Wagging Tails are always interested to hear from dog lovers wishing to join their team of carers throughout Oxfordshire. If you think you could welcome a dog into your family or would like further information about the service, please visit www.waggingtailsuk.co.uk or call Teresa on 07762 132329

What is the Oxford Cat Clinic?

WE ARE an independent cat only veterinary practice located in Botley, Oxford.

Yes, a veterinary surgery just for cats. Definitely no dogs!

Why should you entrust us with the care of your beloved feline?

We offer individual care for individual cats in a quiet, relaxed cat only environment. People say they notice the difference a cat only environment makes the minute they walk through the door and if we as humans notice the difference your cat certainly will!

Our knowledgeable and caring team are passionate about cats. They speak "fluent cat" and understand why cats do what they do. We know some cats need time to get used to a new environment, which is absolutely fine by us. Our appointments are 20 minutes long, so we can take things at your cat's pace and you have time to discuss your concerns and ask questions. We want to work with you, to do the best for you and your cat. This is particularly important for you when your cat is ill - we all know how stressful this can be.

The Oxford Cat Clinic is the only feline exclusive veterinary practice in the UK to offer both first opinion veterinary treatment for cats in the local area, as well as Specialist investigation and treatment for cats referred by other veterinary practices across the county and beyond.

How do I get in touch?

To register your cat at the Clinic or find out a bit more about us then please call on 01865 243000 or email enquiries@oxfordcatclinic.co.uk.

For a referral speak to your own vet first, they will then contact our specialist veterinary team directly to discuss your cats case and their suitability for referral to the Clinic.

'Home Instead has given me my independence back'

FINDING support for your loved ones can be a difficult and challenging process for you and for those you care about. Accepting support can be an emotional and turbulent time and particularly hard when you do not know which care provider to choose.

Our aim at Home Instead, Oxford is to make this process as easy and accommodating as we can. We want to ensure that everyone is comfortable with the care provided by putting our clients first and making their voice count in any long-term decision making. We strive to be an extension to your family, ensuring our clients are at ease in their own homes without feeling restricted or uncomfortable.

'Home Instead has given me my independence back'

How can we help you?

• We listen. Our care plans are created after meetings with you and your loved ones. It is important that you are involved with the decision making as everyone needs to feel comfortable and secure.

• We do not rush. Our client's needs come first and this is reflected in the minimum of an hour call that we provide.

• We create trust. It is vital that our clients trust and feel comfortable with our Caregivers who are provided with full training and support

• We care. We provide specialist care and support for clients who suffer from Alzheimer's or other Dementia.

Home Instead – to us it's personal.

Choosing a memorial

WHEN choosing a memorial, it is important that you make the right choice because a memorial is a lasting monument and a tribute to a person's life, who was dearly loved, it is important to choose it carefully.

Hasty decisions made while still in great distress may cause later regrets so it may be sensible to take time in selecting a suitable design and to think about the inscription. M.J.Sly of Marlborough have been advising clients about memorials since 1992. Founder Martin Sly has 30 years experience in creating designs in stone, marble and granite. Materials are imported from as far as India, China and Italy in many colours.

Help is given with choosing the correct material and design whether for a churchyard or a cemetery.

Designs can be seen from a full colour brochure, from the website www.mjsly.co.uk or a visit to the studio showrooms in Marlborough with over 500 memorials to choose from.

WYTHAM HOUSE
A CARING HOMES RESIDENCE

New care home open for viewing

"When residents choose to make Wytham House their home 'everyday' will remain just as they like it"

Wytham House enjoys views across the extensive Oaken Holt estate

Wytham House is a newly built luxury care home in Farmoor offering the highest level of dementia care. Part of the Oaken Holt estate, it is purpose-built with state-of-the-art facilities, and has been entirely designed around the needs of its residents. Appointments are available now for viewing and rooms can be reserved ahead of the opening in June.

The Home Manager, Lucy Horder, and her skilled team have been chosen for their ability to create a home where care and welfare are central principles, and residents are encouraged to enjoy maximum independence and confidence in a safe and fully supported environment. Lucy says: "When residents choose to make Wytham House their home 'everyday' will remain just as they like it, with careful note taken of their preferences, from waking times to food choices, hobbies and interests."

Our Executive Chef ensures that delicious food reflecting residents' tastes and diets is available at any time of day. Similarly, our Activities Co-ordinators provide a varied programme of events suited to the residents, to make their experience with us as fulfilling as it can be. There are several shared lounges for socialising, complete with kitchen areas for residents and their families to carry out many of the homely and familiar activities which have always formed part of daily life.

Dedicated to improving the lives of people living with dementia, Wytham House incorporates recommendations by the University of Stirling's Dementia Centre –internationally renowned for its knowledge and expertise. Each of the forty en-suite bedrooms has a memory box outside the door, the decor makes use of colour and contrast for safety and perception, and clear signage with icons helps wayfinding.

An enclosed sensory courtyard garden with a circular route through the planting is accessed from many rooms and the second floor enjoys views across the extensive Oaken Holt estate to the Farmoor Reservoir beyond.

Wytham House is a Caring Homes Group care home. Our company has 20 years' experience delivering high quality award winning care across the UK and was founded by mother and son Helena and Paul Jeffery. The company remains family run to this day.

Macsamillion has been prominent in Oxford's historic covered market for almost 40 years and proud to be one of the few remaining independent footwear retailers in the city. With today's easy access to almost anything on the internet their stores retain a loyal and ever increasing following of customers thanks to their exceptional customer service and extensive choice of quality footwear.

With three stores adjacent to each other, there's something to suit almost everyone's needs. The Macsamillion men's store is host to collections from quality British brands and designers. Featuring Goodyear welted shoes and boots from notable brands such as Church's, Cheaney, Crockett & Jones and a newly extended range from Loake. With plenty of stock, there's also a large choice of styles from Mephisto, Timberland, Sebago and many other top brands.

Their Ladies store is a feast for shoe lovers, filled with beautiful footwear from around the globe. Their buyers are constantly looking to source the very best in quality and style whilst retaining their customer's favourite brands such as Arche, Gabor, Peter Kaiser, Think and Wolky. They also stock a wonderful range of handbags and jewellery.

Foot Foundation is Macsamillion's specialist footwear store where customers benefit from a very personalised service. Their skilled staff have an extensive knowledge of foot problems and use the latest digital scanning technology to determine which styles would suit and benefit their customers most. All styles have removable footbeds and can be used with customer's own orthotics. There is a huge choice from the very best of specialist fit brands such as Finn Comfort, Waldlaufer, Semler, Ganter and so many more. Looks do not have to be compromised by comfort and many of Foot Foundation's customers do not have problems with their feet but do recognise that great fitting shoes aid general health and wellbeing. They simply want to walk in the utmost of comfort!

Visit any one of Macsamillions stores for the very best in quality footwear and exceptional customer service. Call 01865 248043 for an appointment with our Foot Foundation store and take your first steps to the ultimate in foot comfort and style.

Green Day rocks the theatre

• Amelia Lily as Whatsername (photo by Darren Bell)

DON'T wanna be an American Idiot.

But you may well wanna relive Green Day's biggest hits when their Broadway musical comes to Oxford on its UK tour.

The show follows three boyhood friends searching for meaning in a post 9/11 world, and features the music of US rock band Green Day with the lyrics of lead singer Billie Joe Armstrong and book by Billie Joe Armstrong and Michael Mayer.

It is running at the New Theatre from Tuesday, May 3, until Saturday, May 7, and stars former X-Factor contestant Amelia Lily as the lead role, Whatsername.

The 21-year-old said: "She's such a cool character. Her outfit's cool, her hair's cool, and she is a rebel at heart.

"One minute she's happy, the next she sees her partner at gunpoint so to get into the character every night and every day is hugely challenging, but I love it."

The musical has won two Tony Awards and the 2010 Grammy Award winner for Best Musical Show Album.

Green Day - Billie Joe Armstrong, Mike Dirnt and Tre Cool - released American Idiot in 2004. Inspired by rock operas such as Jesus Christ Superstar, the album went multi-platinum, selling over 15 million copies and winning a Grammy for Best Rock Album.

By James Richings

The album was a commercial smash, charting in 27 countries, topping 19 of them with hits such as, 'Boulevard of Broken Dreams', 'Wake Me Up When September Ends', 'Holiday', and of course, 'American Idiot'.

The musical debuted in 2009 and has since toured Japan, Sweden, England, Ireland and will travel to Brazil next year.

"If you don't want your typical, everyday musical come and see us," Amelia said.

"There's nothing like American Idiot around at the minute, and the storyline, I've never seen a show like it!

"Before we opened, we thought it was either going to attract lots of Green Day fans or musical theatre fans, but we had a huge range.

"Throughout the show we had 80-year-old ladies in the audience who came out absolutely beaming about the show. My nana loved it."

Suitable for over 14s, tickets cost from £15 to £42.90.

Exploring Antarctica

IT'S 1912 and Captain Scott and his team are attempting to be first to reach the South Pole.

But a series of unfortunate events mean things do not pan out the way they expect.

Find out how the explorers deal with the surprises when, 'Great Scott!' arrives in Oxfordshire.

Performed by the Gonzo Moose Theatre Company the show is in Oxford, Didcot and Banbury over the next few weeks.

Artistic director Mark Dawson said: "It is exciting to make a new show, and our first since 2012.

"We also will be featuring shadow puppetry and a puppet alien, so it will be interesting to see how that will work in telling our alternative story of Captain Scott's final expedition."

The comedy production stops at the Old Fire Station in Oxford on Friday, May 6, the Cornerstone Arts Centre in Didcot on Saturday, May 6, and the Mill Arts Centre in Banbury on Thursday, May 26.

Mark added: "Captain Scott is a fascinating character in that he was seen as a hero then later more of a bungler whose mistakes caused the disastrous end of his ill-fated expedition. We wanted to make him the hero again."

Billy Ocean makes waves

Review: ★★★★★

• Billy Ocean

BILLY Ocean still knows how to get a crowd going, his appearance at Oxford's O2 Academy proved.

And it was to a sell-out audience of all ages that the 66-year-old performed last Friday, April 22.

His backing musicians stepped on the stage to a loud cheers but Billy Ocean, dressed for the occasion in a grey suit and pinned back dreadlocks, was forced to wait a good two minutes before he could drown out the roar and break into 'Nights' (Feel Like Getting Down).

With a beaming smile and energetic dance moves to match, Ocean evidently brought back some hard hitting nostalgia of the 1980s.

I'll admit I was sceptical about going to a Billy Ocean concert. For someone who wasn't born during his peak in mid 1980s, I was worried that I would literally be lost in the crowd.

But seeing hundreds of people throw themselves back a few decades was infectious to say the least.

Born Leslie Charles in Trinidad in 1950, Ocean moved to England and settled into London's East End at the age of seven.

And from there, he got hooked on the music of soul singers like Otis Redding and pop groups like The Beatles and The Rolling Stones.

By James Richings

A lot of hard work and countless gigs later, and Ocean has sold over 30 million records.

The Oxford gig was the first of his new UK tour being launched for his newest album.

'Here You Are: The Best Of Billy Ocean', a mix of new tracks and greatest hits, is being released tomorrow, April 29.

And if the O2 show is a sign of things to come then it's looking good.

Ocean belted out classics such as, 'Loverboy', 'Red Light Spells Danger' and Bob Marley and The Wailers' classic 'No Woman, No Cry' to huge appreciation.

But the biggest cheers of the night came alongside his three biggest songs, 'Get Outta My Dreams, Get Into My Car', 'Love Really Hurts Without You', and of course, 'When the Going Gets Tough' (the tough gets going).

'Caribbean Queen' was the closing song of the set, but Ocean duly obliged a riled up crowd with an encore of the title track from his new album, 'Here You Are'.

It seems to me Billy Ocean was born to entertain. He picked up at least one new fan on the night and I'd see him again without hesitation.

Bellowhead take their last bow

'FITTING' can be the only way to describe Bellowhead's last gig, where it all began 12 years ago at Oxford Town Hall.

The band formed to headline Oxford Folk Festival in 2004, and curtains will fall after their final show on May Day this Sunday, May 1.

In that time the band has forged a reputation out for themselves as a group at the cutting edge of a contemporary music scene which has helped bring folk back to the fore.

Between them the 11 band members trade 30-plus instruments on stage, chopping and changing as only skilled musicians can.

The lengthy list of them is; Jon Boden, John Spiers, Sam Sweeney, Rachael McShane, Benji Kirkpatrick, Paul Sartin, Pete Flood, Andy Mellon, Ed Neuhauser, Brendan Kelly, Justin Thurgur.

They have toured the UK, and released five UK chart hitting studio albums.

Spiers said: "The last gig with the band was always going to be emotional, but for me, as an Oxford lad, it will be particularly significant. I've never gone on stage with Bellowhead and not enjoyed it. I'm pretty sure it'll be just as true on Sunday."

Stuck in a traffic jam in 2004, friends Spiers and Boden vowed the longer they were stuck, the more friends they would invite to join them on tour. Many phone calls and hours later Bellowhead had 11 friends signed up.

Boden added: "Although the band members are from literally all over the UK I've always felt Bellowhead were an Oxford band at heart. Oxford was our first gig and it will be our last. Most of the early arrangements were written in G&D's late at night and we've had so many amazing gigs here over the years.

"For me personally my relationship with English folk music wasn't fully solidified until I became part of the Oxford folk scene, and experienced it on May morning. It feels very right to be finishing here on May 1, but I think I will probably be a bit of a mess by the end of it."

Sartin added: "Truth be told, emotions will be running very high all round.

"Finishing where we started in Oxford Town Hall will be rather special experience, which we're all looking forward to, but it'll be rather difficult too. I may be hiding in a corner in a heap afterwards."

And bringing things full circle will be support band Mawkin, who supported Bellowhead at their first gig all those years ago.

The folk band has trodden its own path in the music industry and been shortlisted for three BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards.

Made up of brothers David (guitar) and James Delarre (fiddle), Danny Crump (bass), Nick Cooke (melodeonist) and Lee Richardson (drummer), the band first formed in 2002 and have since released eight albums.

David told the Guardian: "It is an amazing opportunity to work with one of the most exciting live bands in the UK and we really, really can not wait."

He added: "The 20 years of studying your instrument, the thousands of pounds you spent on buying equipment and learning how to use it, the love, sweat and tears are worth it because the art you are creating is being appreciated by someone.

"That is the best feeling about performing to an audience."

Tickets have sold out and the gig will start at 7pm.

GONZO MOOSE PRESENTS: GREAT SCOTT
Antarctica, 1912. Captain Scott and his men perish in their doomed attempt to be the first to reach the South Pole. But what if this isn't what actually happened? What if the truth was so shocking that it's been covered up for more than a hundred years? Based on newly discovered evidence, Professor George Cranston and The Brinkley Conspiracy Society come together to reconstruct Scott's last days and reveal the explosive truth about what really happened. From the company that brought you What The Dickens, Grimm And Grimmer and I'm An Aristocrat, Get Me Out Of Here!, now comes their most adventurous production yet. *Not a true story.

Sat, May 14, 6.30pm
O2 Academy, Oxford
MAGNUM
Supporting their new album, Sacred Blood 'Divine' Lies, mighty melodic hard rock group Magnum embark on a new UK tour. A hugely stirring, uplifting oapus, the album is a notably heavier, harder offering than its much acclaimed predecessor,Escape From The Shadow Garden, and is packed with even more of Magnum's massive trademark rousing rock melodies.

Tue, May 17, 7.30pm
Cornerstone Arts Centre, Didcot
CAFÉ SCIENTIFIQUE
Café Scientifique is a relaxed forum for debating science issues. As one of the most important areas in the UK for scientific research, there is a wealth of talent that can be drawn on to bring you the latest in scientific thinking. Meetings take place in the Cornerstone café and start with a 20-minute talk, followed by a break to replenish your drinks at the bar and then a discussion with audience members. Run by Didcot First, this engaging evening is always extremely popular and full of lively debate. 3rd Tuesday of every month starting Tue 17 May 7.30pm

Tue, May 17 – Sat, May 21
New Theatre, Oxford
THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT
From the producers of the sell out smash hit Puttin' On The Ritz comes a dazzling song and dance extravaganza bringing you a sparkling all singing, all dancing feel-good show featuring the biggest hits of the 40s & 50s – live on stage.
Special Guest Star Jane McDonald achieved platinum status with her first number one album and her live concerts have sold out at numerous venues across the UK. With glorious costumes, sumptuous music and a West End cast of singers and dancers, this spectacular show will have you tapping your feet, clapping your hands and singing along.

Sat, May 21, 8pm
Cornerstone Arts Centre, Didcot
RICHARD HERRING
After years of drifting aimlessly and alone, Richard Herring is now settled down with a wife and a tiny baby. But is he finally happy? Or does responsibility for the lives of others come with its own terrors?

COMEDY

In his twelfth solo stand up show, Richard examines whether we can ever hope to be, or are meant to be, truly content. If we were never unhappy would happiness have any meaning? Why do our brains make us contemplate disaster even if there is no trigger for negative thinking? Is there path to eternal bliss or should we just face the fact life is a rollercoaster and we must face the rough with the smooth?

Sun, May 22, 7pm
O2 Academy, Oxford
THE JOY FORMIDABLE
Supporting their third album, Hitch, The Joy Formidable embark on a nationwide headline tour. The album, though definitely not short of The Joy Formidable's quintessential energy, is the product of the band adopting a more minimal approach in production style.

Wed, May 25 – Thu, May 28
Playhouse, Oxford
THE ENCOUNTER
In 1969 Loren McIntyre, a National Geographic photographer, found himself lost among the people of the remote Javari Valley, Brazil.
It was an encounter that was to change his life.
In this "spellbinding" ( Daily Telegraph) solo performance, Simon McBurney traces McIntyre's journey into the depths of the Amazon rainforest. Using binaural technology (3D audio), this innovative show will immerse you in an intimate and shifting world of sound.

Thu, May 26, 7.30pm
New Theatre, Oxford
LEGEND OF A BAND
Enjoy the music of the Moody Blues in the company of five legendary musicians, singers and songwriters...
Drummer Gordy Marshall and keyboard player Paul Bliss come direct from performing on the Moody Blues' 2015 nationwide tour.
They are joined by current 10cc lead singer Mick Wilson, Leona Lewis and Westlife guitarist Tim Maple plus James Blunt and Joss Stone bass player Malcolm Moore.
It's a chance to experience impeccable performances of classic Moody Blues hits including Nights in White Satin, Go Now, Tuesday Afternoon, Legend of a Mind (Timothy Leary's Dead), I Know You're Out There Somewhere, Question, Isn't Life Strange – plus Justin Hayward's Forever Autumn and a show-stealing rendition of Eve of the War from Jeff Wayne's War of the Worlds.
The evening is an intriguing insight into the kings of the concept album – the Moody Blues. Relive classic, million-selling albums Days of Future Passed, In Search of the Lost Chord, On the Threshold of a Dream, To Our Children's Children and more.

Mon, May 30 – Wed, Jun 1
Playhouse, Oxford
GRUFFALOS, LADYBYBIRDS AND THE OTHER BEASTS
Following the sell-out success at the Edinburgh Fringe last year, best-selling British author Julia Donaldson brings this enchanting show to Oxford. See her stories and songs acted out with oodles of charm by a cast of five, including guitar-playing husband Malcolm.
Join us for Jack and the Flumflum Tree, What the Ladybird Heard, A Squash and a Squeeze, Zog and of course, The Gruffalo. Made all the more magical by a set that transforms from library to ship,tropical island to deep dark wood, this is a very special experience that families won't want to miss!

Fri, May 20, 8pm
The Mill Arts Centre, Banbury
COUNTERFEIT QUO
Don't miss the chance to head bang along to the UK's longest running Quo tribute band, as they romp their way through the greatest hits of Status Quo. Endorsed by no other than Status Quo's very own Francis Rossi and Rick Parfitt, and having worked withthe band's original drummer and current bassist, Counterfeit Quo gives an adrenaline-fuelled, authentic performance which will delight hardcore Quo fans from the very first chord. Whatever you want, whatever you like, it's right here on stage.

Kia has got some soul

THE Kia Sportage is rapidly becoming a household name. The Korean firm sold 90,000 cars of the popular third-generation since its introduction in 2010, but it's fair to say it was beginning to feel its age.

So with the fourth version of the family-focused SUV, the car has been revamped to the driver's needs.

By James Richings

The new Sportage offers a hugely improved driving experience and we were particularly impressed with the blend of ride comfort and handling (major chassis revisions and a new steering system help here), while the engine choices offer improved efficiency for those all-important lower running costs.

There are four motors on offer – two petrols and two diesels – along with six-speed manual, six-speed automatic and seven-speed twin-clutch automatic gearboxes.

Kia has also strived to make the Sportage a well equipped car.

As ever with Kia, there's a huge amount of equipment built into most trims. If we're being brutal we'd say that one specification is a little parsimonious, but moving up to two nets you a huge amount of useful kit including a touchscreen sat-nav, reversing camera, cruise control, parking sensors, DAB radio, Bluetooth connectivity and automatic lights and wipers.

It also comes with automatic parking, a powered tailgate, heated and ventilated front seats, a heated steering wheel and wireless smartphone charging – but only if your device supports it.

Every Kia also gets the firm's seven-year, 100,000-mile warranty. Not only is this transferable to a second owner if you choose to sell the car, but if you buy a used one less than 18 months old from an official Kia dealer, the seven-year warranty period is reset.

But that isn't an indication of unreliability, as Kia has built a fantastic reputation for quality over recent years and the new Sportage feels better in this respect than any previous car from the company.

Now the big question: should you buy one?

There are plenty of reasons to buy, or indeed lease, a new Sportage. Low CO2 emissions mean it won't cost the earth to tax, there's a long warranty, you get well-equipped trims, and to cap it all, it drives well too.

U's hold on to shot at promotion after win

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United moved another step towards promotion with a deserved 2-0 win over Hartlepool United in the club's penultimate home game of the season on Saturday.

Kemar Roofe snatched Oxford's opener early in the first half before Liam Sercombe pinched the crucial second in injury time of a bitterly tense second half.

The win keeps the U's in third place, just a point above fourth-placed Bristol Rovers ahead of Saturday's potential promotion clincher at Carlisle United.

After just seven minutes Oxford had the opener when Chris Maguire played the ball in to Sercombe who struck the crossbar with an effort and the U's top goalscorer Roofe volleyed home the rebound. The goalscorer then nearly set up the U's second after Danny Hylton won the ball for the forward down the right and Roofe clipped a low cross in for Alex MacDonald to spurn wide with a volley from close range.

Pool's Luke James was handed a great chance at the start of the second half after a cross was played into him on 48 minutes. But his header was misjudged and Oxford's Jonjoe Kenny cleared.

Hylton then spurned a golden opportunity for the U's after they countered with four-on-one but the forward's shot was blocked and a subsequent corner led to a scramble in the box, which Hartlepool managed to clear.

The Hartlepool goal should have bulged on 67 minutes after MacDonald whipped in a delicious cross which zoomed right across the away side's area but no foot could direct it goalwards.

Hartlepool's Bates came inches within securing an equaliser shortly afterwards when Thomas' cross was headed just wide by the defender, who was unmarked in the box. Maguire then sent a ferocious cross to miss James Roberts' head by inches before the winger was denied by Carson with a stunning block.

The deciding goal came in the third minute of added time after O'Dowda muscled his man off the ball and played in Sercombe, who took his time and stroked the ball past Carson to seal the win.

Chinnor streak stopped by Redingensians

CHINNOR'S three match winning run was brought to a swift end at Redingensians in an enthralling 37-21 defeat in the National League 2 South.

The home side were in front after two minutes when lock Jamie Gutteridge found space in the Villagers' defence and opened the scoring with a converted try. Chinnor snatched a reply through a driving try from a rolling maul as Nathan Hannay crossed and Sam Angell added the extras.

On the stroke of half-time the Rams retook the lead when Spike Chandler crossed after Chinnor's Alex Waddingham was sin-binned.

Right on half-time, the Rams went into a 20-7 lead through winger Sam McDermottroe who pounced on a loose pass for another try.

Angell then strolled over the line for the Villagers after the break before another loose ball left scrum half George Drury to cross with a run from the 10-metre line.

Shortly afterwards winger Connor Corrigan was then sent through to cross for another try for the home side.

Chinnor bagged a third try late on through Hannay's second who were unable to find a way back into the game.

The Thame-based side lie ninth in the table.

Women's American Football team launched by Abingdon's Ox Saints

• The Witney Angels rugby team are looking to build an American Football team

ABINGDON-BASED American Football team Oxford Saints have announced a women's team.

The vastly growing club is launching a ladies' team this year and will be holding the very first training session on Tuesday, May 10.

Rugby club Witney Angels have helped play a role behind the new initiative and their captain Jospehine McInerney has expressed her excitement about the opportunity.

She said: "I got in touch with the Oxford Saints after realising that, like me, most of my rugby team have always dreamt about playing American Football.

"We've never felt so welcome. Not only am I learning the game, I can't wait to see the first women's squad run out onto the pitch in their new Saints jerseys!"

A foundation day for the club is also planned for this year that will see national team GB Lions coming to Oxford for a session with budding players.

Jim Messenger, BAFA Head of Women Development said: "From Scotland to the south coast new women's teams are popping up and we are very excited to see the launch of a team for Oxfordshire.

"The Oxford Saints has a proud tradition and a great reputation within British American Football, I am sure the Saints' women's team will be a great success."

Anyone looking to get started with the team can attend the training session at Tilsley Park in Dunmore Road from 7.30pm to 9.30pm.

The club can also be contacted on women@oxfordsaints.com

Walker off in city draw

By Loughlan Campbell

LAURIE WALKER was sent off for Oxford City in their penultimate game of the season at Dartford City with Elliot Bradbrook salvaging a point for the hosts with a late penalty.

Goals from Matt Whichelow and Julen Lafuente had given City the lead on two occasions but each time Bradbrook replied for the hosts.

It was a close game from the off with Bradbrook denied by Walker's outstretched hand earlier on and City's Matt Bevans then had to clear Ronnie Vint's header.

On 44 minutes came the opener after a pass right through the Dartford defence was taken on by Whichelow who sprinted forward to then slide the ball into the back of the net.

Shortly after the restart Dartford struck back as Bradbrook headed the ball past Walker after Ryan Hayes' cross.

However, just two minutes later Oxford were back in front as forward Conor McDonagh clipped in a cross and the ball fell to Lafuente to tap home.

Down the other end saw Walker block Dartford's Danny Harris' effort when one-on-one and just as Oxford looked like taking the three points, controversy struck.

Hayes put the ball in the back of the net for Dartford, however, referee Ian Fissenden ruled out the goal instead awarding a penalty to the home side and sending Walker off.

The keeper had previously been booked for time wasting but with no substitute goalkeeper on the bench, Declan Benjamin took the gloves and was beaten well by Bradbrook's spot-kick, levelling the tie.

Oxford now lie tenth in the Conference South heading into the final round of fixtures this weekend.

The Blues entertain league champions Sutton United at Marsh Lane on Saturday.

Wantage end season with Tiverton defeat

WANTAGE Town were battered 4-0 at Tiverton Town in their final game of the season on Saturday.

A brace from Danny Smith and goals from Ben Mammola and Owen Howe sealed the win for home side.

Smith broke the deadlock after 24 minutes, firing into the back of the net from the edge of the box and just before half-time it was two for Tiverton after Howe cushioned a header into the bottom of the net.

Wantage had their chances in the half and went close through Jared Jones' volley which was palmed away by 'keeper Joe Perry.

After 55 minutes it was three for Tiverton when an unmarked Mammola headed the ball into the net before Smith grabbed his second of the day to round out the scoring.

The loss continued a wretched run of form for Wantage that has seen them win three times in 18 matches since the turn of the year.

They secured their position in the Southern League Division One South and West last weekend but it's fair to say their campaign has been mostly disappointing.

Stuart Cattell took the job on a permanent basis in January following the departure of Daniel Barry in October.

Freds fans will be hoping for a better season come August this year.

Blues battle over the line

WITNEY RFC finished their South West 1 East season on a high with a 25-21 win over Leighton Buzzard at Hailey Road on Saturday.

A fast-paced start led to a penalty for the Blues on ten minutes with fly half George Lewis' penalty getting the first points of the day.

However, the lead was short-lived as Buzzard crossed the line on 16 minutes when full back Ben Beaumont cut through the Blues defence with scrum half Geoff Branwhite adding the extras.

Just two minutes later Witney fought back and number 8 Charlie Bennett pushed over the line with an easy try for an 8-7 score.

The try spurred Buzzard back into the game and after centre Euan Irwin went over Branwhite then converted another penalty goal after Witney failed to release.

Three minutes into the second half saw Buzzard extend their lead to 18-8 through a penalty goal.

The game then turned as Witney fought back through a try from David Hyde after great work from Henry Lamb before Buzzard extended their lead through another penalty goal.

Lamb then kicked a penalty goal for the Blues in reply before Bennett squeezed past the Buzzard backs for a final try and Lamb added the extras.

The win came off the back of a close 20-14 defeat at Salisbury with the Blues winning the previous four games.

Witney end the season in fourth on 88 points, just eight away from a promotion place.

Smith runs out of luck in Jerez test

BRADLEY SMITH suffered a difficult weekend in Jerez, Spain after struggling in the qualifying to finish 12th overall.

The Oxford MotoGP rider called it 'a tough weekend' with the Brit pushed back to 15th by the end of the first lap.

Smith did not give in and moved up the field to 12th by the tenth lap but it was too late for him to catch the riders in front and he powered to the end in the same position.

Speaking after the race he said: "Without a doubt it was a tough weekend for me but at least I got something out of it in terms of points.

"I just tried to be as smooth as possible and reach the finish flag. We will work hard so that we can be strong in Le Mans like last year."

His team manager, Herve Poncharal at Monster Yamaha Tech 3 said: "It was another tough weekend for him, but just like in Austin and Argentina, he managed to better everything on race day.

"I think this year he is just not comfortable on the bike yet."

Smith will be hoping for a better result in Le Mans, France next weekend.

Sport Bites

Club's fate

FOOTBALL: Abingdon United's future in the Hellenic Premier League is set to be decided next month.

The football club based at the Northcourt finished nineteenth and in the relegation places this season meaning they are likely to be relegated to Division One East or West.

However, the decision on relegations and promotions in the league is made by the FA (Football Association) who will disclose to the Hellenic League next month about Abingdon's place in the league.

Star departures

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars' directors Elaine Sutcliffe and David Hurn have retired from their roles at the club.

The Stars made it to the play-offs this season but were bested over two games by the Streatham Redskins earlier this month.

A statement from the Oxpens Road club on Monday thanked the duo for their support.

Fans' vote

FOOTBALL: United fans are reminded that voting for their supporters' players of the year and unsung hero closes tomorrow.

The supporters' winner will pick up the Andrew Knapton Memorial Trophy with the trophy up for grabs for the fifteenth time.

The awards dinner where the winner will be announced takes places next Sunday at the Kassam Stadium.

Millers finish with a flourish

JAMIE COOK bagged a brace as North Leigh ran rampant against basement boys Bashley with a 4-1 win at Eynsham Park on Saturday.

Elliot Osborne-Ricketts and Lance Williams grabbed the Millers' other goals while Will Heather scored a consolation penalty for the visitors.

The opener came through Cook on 43 minutes who picked up the ball on the right before cutting inside and curling an effort into the net.

Right before the half-time whistle Leigh extended the lead when Cook tapped in a second after Morgan William's powerful drive fell to the forward on the follow-up.

The third goal came with twenty minutes to go as Osborne-Ricketts barrelled home a long-range effort before the visitors were handed a penalty when Joseph Kieron was brought down by Sam Elkins.

Heather slotted home the spot kick but the Millers had the final say in the final minute of the game when Williams stroked the ball home from close range.

Didcot Town campaign ends with 0-0 Swindon anti-climax

Diddy end season on stalemate

• Didcot's Adam Learoyd makes a sweeping challenge on a Supermarine player (Picture by Roger Neal)

By Loughlan Campbell

DIDCOT TOWN ended a tumultuous campaign with a goalless draw away to play-off finishers Swindon Supermarine on Saturday in Wiltshire.

The contest at Webbs Wood Stadium was a bit of a mediocre affair with end-of-season fatigue present amongst both teams.

Supermarine headed into the encounter looking ahead to their play-off match at Taunton Town on Tuesday while Diddy's mid-table position had already been confirmed ahead of kick-off.

It took nearly 20 minutes into the game for the team to fashion an opportunity with Didcot's Adam Learoyd climbing highest to head goalwards.

However, Swindon 'keeper Harvey Rivers moved sharply to tip the effort over the crossbar.

Connor Thompson should then have done better just afterwards when his mazing run into the box saw him fire just wide of the right hand post at the end of a meandering first half.

The half was more entertaining than the first as both sides began to press forward more although Didcot were restricted more to long-range efforts that were scuffed wide.

Swindon's Josh Parson then fired wide for the hosts before Diddy 'keeper Leigh Bedwell pulled off a set of stunning blocks.

Bedwell first got down low to block Sam Morris with a superb stop before the shot-stopper smothered Josh Morse's attempt at goal.

The game came to an end shortly afterwards bringing a close to a mixed season for the club that has seen many ups and downs.

Their miraculous FA Cup run to the first official round against League Two opposition Exeter City will live long in the supporter's memories.

However, this was then followed by the surprise joint-managerial partnership of Ian Concannon and Jamie Heapy in December.

Andy Ballard has since stepped up and after taking on the manager job on a full-time basis, and following a strong showing of results the club looks in a solid place to build a play-off challenge in 2016/17.
